After long fighting the independent retailers' corner, Mary Portas has lent her expertise to a series of master classes designed to benefit them directly.

Developed in conjunction with Skillsmart Retail and delivered exclusively through the National Skills Academy for Retail's skills shops, the Mary Portas Guide to Successful Retailing will give a unique insight into improving independent retail businesses and includes Mary's advice on essential elements such as visual merchandising, marketing, buying, finance and the all-important vision for the store.

Covering every stage of creating and running a successful business, each module has an invaluable set of hints and tips to improve performance.
